Sjarel Ex (Museum Boijmans van Beuningen) has introduced me to the extraordinary, the wonderful work of Paul Noble [\[Link\]](#) [\[Link\]](#) [\[Link\]](#)

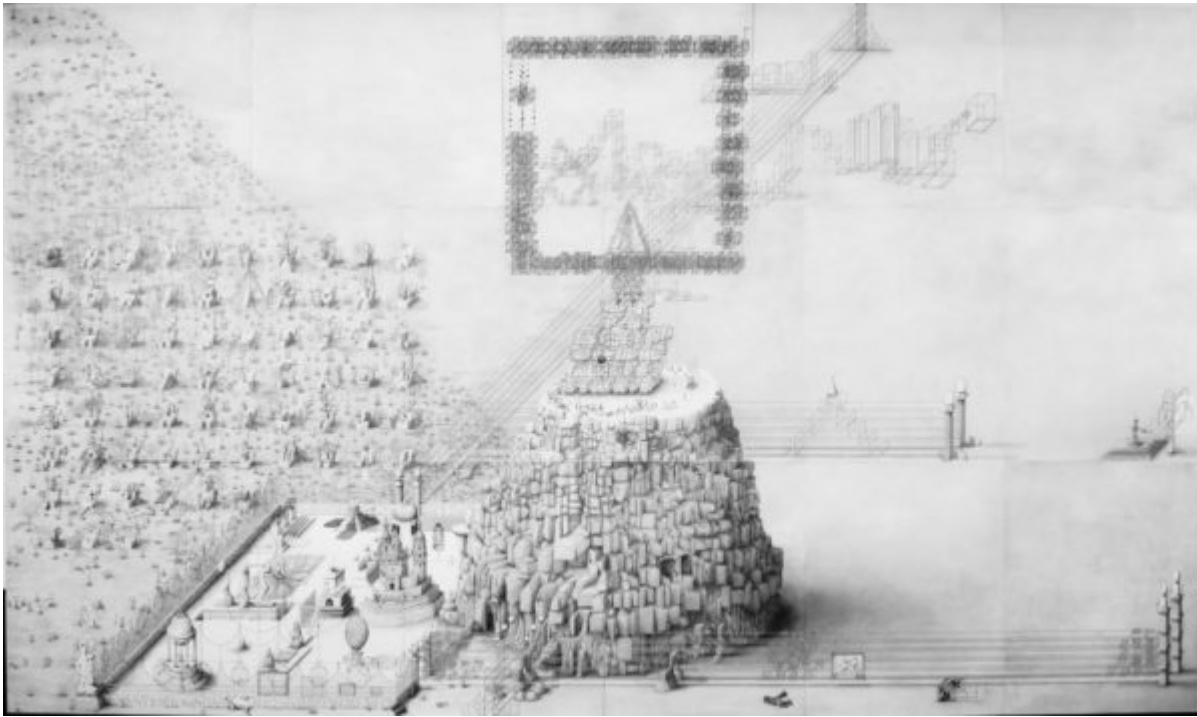

A paradigm of the archaeological imagination. Paul has been drawing his Nobson Newtown for a number of years.

I could just about tick every one of the categories in my blog. I will have a lot more to say about Paul.

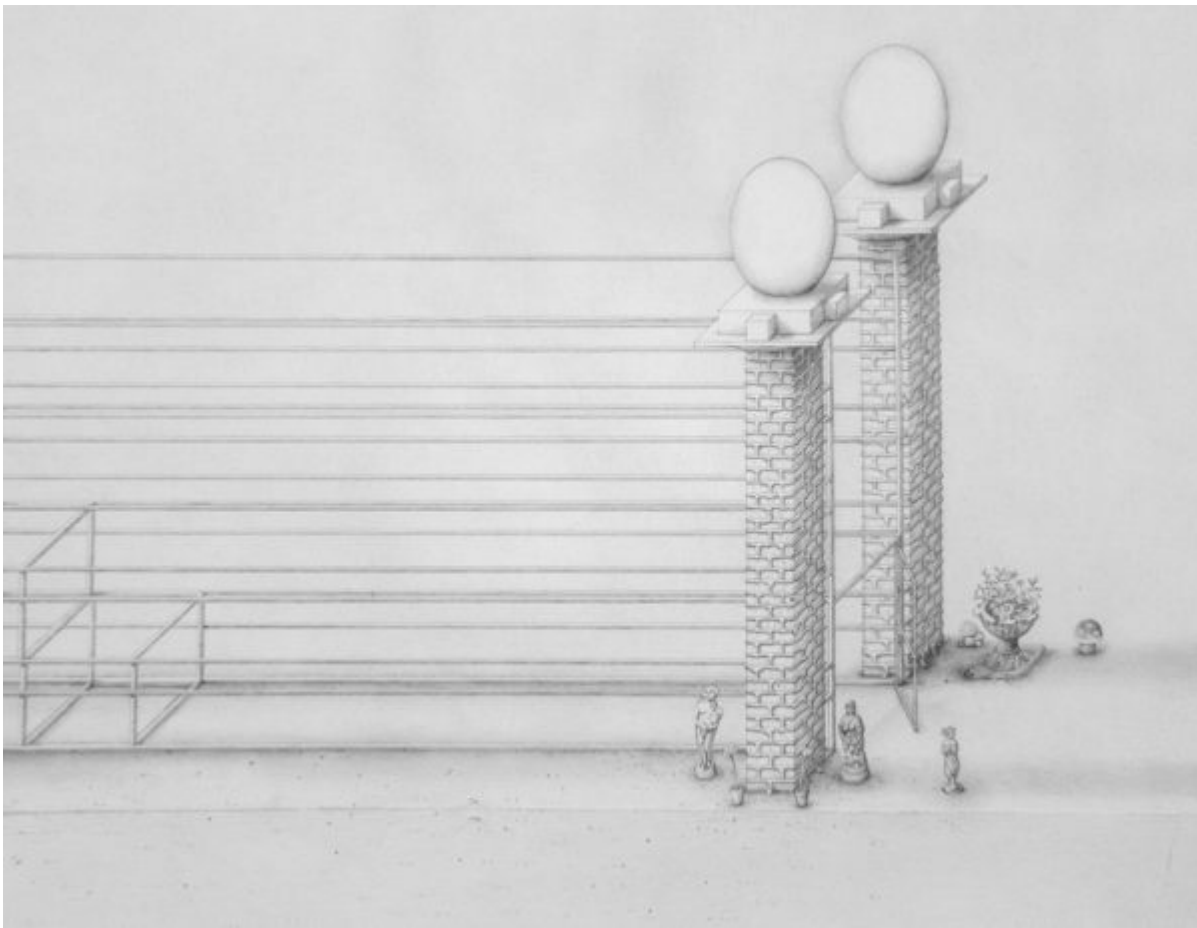

It's very difficult to show Paul's work. I had a close look at Ye Olde Ruin – it covers a wall at Boijmans.

– quite enormous – 12 feet high and full of detail

here's an oblique view -
