

materiality of the invisible

Categories : "this happened here", "what becomes of what was", \(past\) presences, \(re\)framing, actuality, archaeological imagination, archaeological sensibility, art-archaeology, contemporary art, contemporary past, critical design, critical heritage, critical theory, cultural politics, entropy, ethics, figure and ground, figure in a landscape, forensics, garbology, genius loci, hylography, landscapes, materialities, media archaeology, media matters, memento mori, memory practices, museums, noise, nostos - the return, ontology, phenomenologies, photography, presence, ruins and remains, signal and noise, the academy, the quotidian, the shape of history, the spectral, the uncanny, theatre-archaeology, things, thirdspace, thresholds, time, transdisciplinary spaces, world building

Date : August 31, 2017

Yesterday I had the great honor to open a remarkable exhibition of artworks at the Van Eyck Academie in Maastricht.

VAN EYCK

multiform institute for fine art, design and reflection

Curators: Lex ter Braak, Director of Van Eyck and Huib Haye van der Werf, Head of Artistic Program. The exhibition runs through The Van Eyck Academie, Marres, and Bureau Europe in Maastricht.

I have no doubt that this is one of the most sophisticated explorations I have encountered of what I call the archaeological imagination. Stunning!

I have expanded the talk I gave at the opening - and I am still hardly doing justice to this gathering of artists, works, ideas, provocations ... and so much more. Here is the slide deck.

Materiality-of-the-invisible-2.0

Save

Save